IF PROHIBITION WENT.
ONLY NEGRO DISMISSED.
NATIONAL CITY TALE.
REMOVALS WITH COT-TON.

—By Arthur Brisbane
(Copyright 1929, By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THE president, according to Washington reports, agrees with Mr. Wickersham that all of the states should share in prohibition enforcement. Prohibition machinery must be made stronger, with state and national governments standing loyally behind it.

On the other side of the fence, the war against prohibition continues. An organization of young "Crusaders," with headquarters in Cleveland, has vowed that prohibition shall go. There are many interesting names among the young Crusaders, not dismayed, evidently, by the sad fate of some Crusaders of old.

Suppose, "just for the sake of supposing," that anti-prohibition be eliminated.

At least $5,000,000 determined and desperate men are in that army. They have become hardened to quick shooting and accustomed to very "easy money."

What would they do if bootlegging, with its hundreds of millions of annual profit, vanished over night?

Does any one think the army would peaceably disband, returning to dull, hard work for small pay?

Hardly. For the first few years, when, if ever, prohibition takes wings, hire for your business and home extra watchmen. They will be needed.

The only Negro student at West Point, a dismissed "honorable," for deficiency in mathematics.

Six or three white men failed in examinations with him and were all dismissed. Prejudice had nothing to do with it, although Lonzo Souleigh Parkman, the Negro cadet dismissed, is the fourteenth to enter the academy and the eleventh to be dismissed at the end of six months.

It is no reflection on any race to say that capacity for intensive mental effort, such as West Point demands, can hardly be acquired in two or three generations.

A fast-running horse, and a man thinking clearly, go back through many specialized generations of training and thinking.

Why are Jewish boys and girls, usually, leaders in our public school classes? Because their ancestors were studying when ours were running over the British Isles, their stomachs painted blue.

"Mark now how a plain tale shall put you down," is the substance of President Charles E. Mitchell's report on the National City bank for 1929.

Earnings were more than twenty-six millions—five and a half million more than in 1928.

Three millions went to a contingency reserve; $9,406,327 was added to undivided profits; stockholders got $13,510,000. Quite a business for one bank.

The number of shareholders was multiplied by three in the year, which ended with new high records in resources, deposits and invested capital.

Mitchell says he is optimistic about the future. He might be.

A senate committee, investigating cotton exchanges, is told that a small group of big buyers, Sears-Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Woolworth and Henry Ford among them, kept down the price of cotton.

Big buyers remorselessly using expedient to drive down the price of cotton fabrics.

The four firms mentioned use one-fifth of all cotton goods manufactured.

Buyers, naturally, buy as cheap as they can. But they must buy. They cannot confiscate.

Government, state and national, and cotton growers should find some way "remorselessly" to drive the price of cotton up.

Big buyers must have cotton, growers and their friends have the whip hand, but don't know how to use it.

From Portland to San Francisco, air mail pilot Ralph Virden flew an average speed of 201 miles an hour, breaking records, and climbing 13,000 feet up to get the desired "fast tail wind" to drive him along.

The postoffice has done more to develop American aviation than all other agencies combined.

President Hoover and Postmaster Brown, and the brave, brilliantly able mail pilots, deserve the public's thanks.

Blonde Bandit-Slayer Captured In Gun Battle

WOMAN WANTED FOR MURDER OF TROOPER JAILED

Shot Other Officers In Arizona; Shoots At Sheriff's Posse

AIRPLANE DIRECTS GREAT MANHUNT

Admits She Is Wanted In Pennsylvania For Killing

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 15.—Irene Schroeder, 22-year-old blonde woman, today admitted her identity as the much-sought Pennsylvania bandit-murderess after she had been captured with two male companions in the mountain wilderness following a gun-battle with a posse of deputy sheriffs.

"Yes, I'm Irene Schroeder," she told Sheriff Charles Wright. A moment later she revealed that one of the men apprehended with her and whom she called her husband was Clem Dague, wanted with her for the murder of Brady Paul, state highway patrolman, near Newcastle, Pa., December 27.

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 15.—Officers were confident today that they had Irene Schroeder, Pennsylvania bandit-murderess, in the Maricopa county jail, following the surrender of a pretty blonde woman and her two companions before an attacking posse of 75 men after their ammunition had given out.

The trio, who wounded three officers at Chandler Monday, were subdued in a cave far up the slopes of Estrella mountains. Twenty shots were exchanged before the ammunition of the bandits was expended.

An airplane circling high overhead directed the posse to the cave in which the bandits were hiding. The outlaws opened fire on the officers as they circled the peak near the cave.

The posse chipped the rocks in the vicinity of the trio with bullets. A prolonged battle was avoided when Mrs. Schroeder and J. W. Crawford came out and surrendered. It was discovered that their ammunition was gone. Gage gave up a few minutes later.

Sheriff Charles Wright said the trio, who refused to admit their identity, were Irene Schroeder, 22, Glen Gage, 32, and J. W. Crawford. (Continued on Page 3)

COLD WEATHER CLAIMS LIVES

Three Known Dead In California Mountains; Roads Blocked

San Francisco, Jan. 15.—Wintry weather today had claimed three lives in California. Meanwhile, rescue parties in California and Nevada were pushing through heavy snows to aid many who have been trapped in the mountains.

Two dead were reported from northern California. They were Jack Stone, a trapper, who was found dead from exposure near Eureka. An unidentified man, believed to be a prospector, was found dead from exposure in a cabin near Redding.

E. L. Johnston, a homesteader, was found dead in his cabin, 60 miles from San Bernardino.

Two missing girls are being sought in the mountains back of San Bernardino, while another rescue party is trying to reach a mother and daughter in the same section. They are reported to be seriously ill.

Marie Prevost, film actress, and five friends are beleaguered in the Tehachas. They are said to be short of rations.

With lines of communication down, many communities and resorts throughout the state have not been heard from for several days. Highway traffic was still seriously affected by the snow fall.

Probert Will Head Salem Church Board

James Probert was re-elected president of the official board of the Christian church at a meeting of the board Tuesday evening at the church. George Loxier is vice president.

Other officers re-elected are: Secretary, Frank Heston; financial secretary, W. E. Moulton; treasurer, G. H. Minto; clerk, A. M. Poole.

The ministers pension fund was discussed. Action on the matter will be taken at an adjourned session of the board on Feb. 4.

PETITION ASKS OUSTER OF COUNTY HOME HEAD; MANY CHARGES LISTED

"Complainant" Admits Lack Of Knowledge As To Truth Of Accusations; Twenty-six Signed; Hearing Date Has Not Been Set

Removal of John P. Neill as superintendent of the Columbiana county home is sought in a petition signed by 26 men and women and filed with the county commissioners.

The petition is headed by Mrs. Kittie L. Rothwell of East Palestine, president of the Columbiana county W. C. T. U. who has signed the petition as "complainant."

The petition charges Neill with drunkenness, gross immorality, misfeasance, malfeasance, nonfeasance, gross neglect of duty, and failure to perform his official duties as superintendent of the county home.

The petition, although bearing the date of Dec. 21, 1929, was not filed with the commissioners by Attorney W. W. Beck until now. Metzger, McCarthy & McCorkhill of Salem are named as associate counsel with Mr. Beck.

Twenty-five Have Signed
After the signature of Mrs. Rothwell, appear the signatures of 25 others who declare they are "familiar with the charges" and join in filing the petition, and ask that the commissioners set a date for the taking of testimony in support of the charges.

Those whose names appear are: Mrs. Helen Horn, J. E. Vanaman, Mrs. Eliza Underwood, Harry Chalmers, B. J. Allcorn, Mrs. B. J. (Continued on Page 4)

HOPKINS OUSTER CHARGES TO BE COMPLETE SOON

Cleveland, Jan. 15.—Furnishing touches to the ouster charges against William R. Hopkins, dismissed Cleveland city manager, are expected to be decided upon in a second meeting of the city council "firing squad" tonight.

Behind doors labeled "strictly private," and barring even newspapermen, the committee appointed to prepare an "indictment" against Hopkins met for a brief hour yesterday afternoon but emerged without having completed the charges.

Hopkins, meanwhile, free from the duties of the public office he had held for six years, awaited the filing of the charges in order that he could map out his defense for a public hearing before council which will probably be held next Tuesday.

Condemnation of the city council and its ouster action was hurled last night by Rabbi Barnett R. Bricker, ardent of the situation, who described the situation as comparable to the regime of Boss Tweed and his ring in New York.

Claims "Raw Deal"
"This is the rawest deal perpetrated by a political boss and his clique since the days of Tweed," Rabbi Bricker cried.

Hopkins' dismissal was effected here by an alleged political machine set up in council by Maurice Maschke, Republican leader. (Continued on Page 3)

Murder Motive

Mrs. GEORGE MASON, of Atlanta, Ga., was shot dead by her former husband, John Ernest Barnett, an accountant, of Chattanooga, Tenn. At the same time that Barnett shot and killed her last husband, George Mason Barnett, his double murder completed, then turned the gun on himself and ended his life. It is said that the love that Barnett bore for his former wife was the cause of the tragedy.

DEATH CLAIMS FRANK McCORD

Mr. McCord was born in Mercer county, Pennsylvania, June 28, 1834, and spent his early life in Lawrence county, Pennsylvania, in the livestock business with his father.

In 1863, he married Margaret Hunter, of Lowellville, Pa., who died at Lisbon a few years ago.

The family located in Lisbon in 1872, when Mr. McCord engaged in partnership with his father-in-law, J. S. Hunter, in the milling business, in an old stone mill, at the south end of Market st., Lisbon.

Throughout his life, Mr. McCord was prominently identified with the Republican party and was active in county and district politics. He served as postmaster of Lisbon and three terms as internal revenue collector for the 18th district with offices at Cleveland.

He cast his first vote for president for Fremont in 1854.

Farmers' Problems Discussed In Talk

People who live in cities should not judge the farmers too critically from the sidelines, Carlton F. Christian, editor of Farm and Dairy told members of the Salem Rotary club Tuesday noon at their meeting at the Elks home.

Christian referred to many problems which face the farmer and declared those not engaged in farming cannot fully appreciate these problems. One of these problems is a market for their products, particularly hay. He gave an interesting story of changes in methods of farming and new problems that these changes have produced.

The speaker was introduced by Harry Fox.

Announcement was made that District Gov. Arthur Christy of Fremont, will visit the Salem club next Tuesday.

FLOOD HOLDING OHIO TIGHT IN WATERY HANDS

Fremont Merchants Fear Undermining Of Buildings

OTHER CITIES ARE SUSTAINING LOSSES

Relief Expected As Cold Weather Will Check More Rainfall

Colder weather swept over Ohio today, and the floods, which have already caused considerable damage in the central and northern part of the state, were checked, temporarily at least.

Reports from many of the flooded districts said that waters from the swollen streams had stopped rising, and in many places, were receding slowly.

In Columbus and vicinity, the mercury dropped 20 degrees, almost to the freezing point.

Many sections in northwestern Ohio, where the water was reported to be higher than in any other section, still remained flooded by more than a foot of water, and hundreds of families are marooned.

Suspend Car Service
Traction car service between Toledo and Lima was suspended because of submerged tracks and the tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad in that district were threatened.

The Muskingum river at Zanesville was stationary at noon today after having reached a level of nearly 25 feet. The lowlands in the district were reported completely submerged.

Reports from Defiance said that the Maumee and Auglaize rivers were at their highest stage since the flood of 1913. Several families were marooned at Tiffin.

The Sandusky river at Fremont had reached 14 feet, six inches, this morning, and was still rising. The main business section of the town was covered with more than a foot of water. Merchants worked all night moving their goods to safe quarters. Many of the stores have been vacated and business in general has been suspended.

Fear For Buildings

A collapse of some of the buildings in the business district is feared because of an undermining of the section in the flood of 1913.

The lower sections of Fremont are covered with four feet of water. Families, who were forced to leave their homes, were housed in the higher parts of the city during the night. Preparations are being made to care for hundreds of homeless families tonight.

Children were taken to school in boats in flooded sections of Massillon.

Thirty roads in the state are under water, it was reported by the state highway department.

The stage of the Ohio river at East Liverpool was reported lower somewhat, but engineers at the lock dams anticipated another rise today.

Traffic has been stopped in many parts of the state. Buses and traction cars have been slowed down due to water covered roads and tracks.

Officers Installed At Corps Meeting

Mrs. Dora Bentley, a past department officer, conducted the installation of officers for the Women's Relief corps Tuesday evening at the hall, East State st.

Zimmerman; treasurer, Mrs. Clara Zimmerman; chaplain, Mrs. Sara Fitzpatrick; conductress, Mrs. Clara Schwartz; assistant conductress, Mrs. Phebe Gardner Davidson; guard, Mrs. Hattie Murphy; assistant guard, Mrs. Anna Weirick; patriotic instructor, Mrs. Dora Bentley; press correspondent, Mrs. W. L. Smith; color bearers, Mrs. Frank Behner, Mrs. C. R. Toot, Mrs. W. L. Fultz and Mrs. F. A. Rinehart; musician, Mrs. David Horner.

The meeting was concluded with a social period and the social committee served lunch.

Sentence Suspended By Probate Judge

Lisbon, Jan. 15.—A sentence of 15 days in the county jail has been suspended by Probate Judge Lodge Riddle in the petty larceny action filed against James Whinnery of Knox township on condition that he return to his home and support his family. Orville Whinnery, a brother, however, was committed to the county jail.

Both men were charged with the theft of 15 head of poultry from the farm of Ed Herron, in Knox township the night of Jan. 1, and were arrested at Canton and returned to this county by Sheriff W. J. Barlow.

Geysers Spout In Ohio County

Sandusky, O., Jan. 15.—Minute geysers, spouting streams of water several feet high, were reported in Grotto and Margaretta townships near here today, as freaks of the incessant rainfall in this section during the past three days.

The "geysers" sprang up from sink holes over an underground stream. The sink holes serve as a sewer system to Bellevue and vicinity and usually drain the rainfall into the underground stream.

Basements of homes in Bellevue and Castalia were flooded, but the damage was slight, and there is no danger of serious floods, reports said.

UNEMPLOYED IN GERMANY RIOT; DEATHS RESULT

Workers Fight Police In Street Battles; Guns Used Fatally

Worms, Germany, Jan. 15.—Terrific street clashes between police and unemployed rioters resulted in deaths and many persons wounded here today.

Numerous arrests were made after the rioters were quelled by police reinforcements brought from Darmstadt. Among those arrested was a Communist deputy of the Prussian diet.

The street clashes had been occurring intermittently for two days but early this morning they reached their highest pitch when police attempted to clear the streets of a large body of demonstrators.

Rioters armed with rifles and guns openly opposed the police and a battle followed.

Snipers fired at the police from roof tops and windows of buildings. It was not until the reinforcements arrived that the police were able to put the ferociously-fighting unemployed to rout. Scores of the rioters were left lying wounded on the streets.

The rioting is believed to have been inspired by widespread Communist propaganda throughout Germany for concerted uprisings in the country.

Chemnitz, Germany, Jan. 15.—Continued rioting of unemployed strikers here raised the death toll in clashes with police to three today.

Fighting as though inspired, the rioters opposed the police at every turn disregarding the weapons of the officers entirely.

HOME BLAZES CAUSE DEATHS

2 Children, Woman Are Victims Of Fire After Oil Explosions

Portsmouth, O., Jan. 15.—Two small children and the mother of one of them are dead here today as the result of two fires which completely destroyed their homes here late yesterday.

Nellie Boldman, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boldman of Buck Run, 10 miles northwest of here, burned to death while she was strapped to a high chair. The baby's mother, Mrs. Goldie Boldman, was fatally burned when she attempted to rescue the screaming child from the flaming structure. She died a few hours later. The home was burned to the ground.

Explosion of a kerosene lamp started the fire, it is believed. Dorothy Noel, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Noel, was burned to death in another explosion which was caused by an over-application of kerosene to a coal stove.

Agreement Reached In Damage Action

Lisbon, Jan. 15.—An agreement has been reached between the Salem Realty company and the city of Salem, in the $5,000 damage action and injunction petition filed by the Salem Realty company, May 21, 1926.

The agreement, which has been made a matter of court record, provides that the City of Salem shall construct a protected water course or sewer about the property of the Salem Realty company, and that this improvement shall be completed not later than Sept. 1 next.

There has been no financial consideration set out in this agreement.

TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS UNDER 1929 ORDINANCE

Lower Tax Income; Less From Mayor's Court Are Reasons

SAFETY FUNDS ARE LOWERED

Council Passes Ordinance Unanimously At Meeting

Forced to cut funds in every municipal department to the lowest possible figure, Salem city council established the city's budget for the year and passed the annual appropriation ordinance under suspension of rules in an adjourned meeting Tuesday night.

The appropriations provided in the budget for municipal departments are established at a considerably lower figure than has been set in years.

The budget established the city's financial needs for the year at $166,034.70, almost $10,000 lower than the 1929 appropriations which amounted to $175,281.46. This year's appropriations are approximately $17,000 less than the budget of 1928 and forced the abandonment of at least two issues of extreme municipal importance.

The ordinance was adopted by council by unanimous vote. It had been given extensive study by the appropriation and finance committee at several committee meetings last week and was made a matter of discussion by the entire council at a meeting Monday night.

Cuts in all departments were made necessary after the finances available for the city this year were found lower than at any time in the past three years.

Cut Safety Funds
The city department, which for the past two years has entered repeated requests for the addition of firemen and policemen to its forces, witnessed the abandonment of these issues in the $2,000 cut effected in its appropriation. Council granted (Continued on Page 4)

FLOODS SPREAD ACROSS INDIANA

Safety Of Thousands Is Imperiled By Water From Rivers

Chicago, Jan. 15.—While a zero wave held the Rocky mountain and Pacific coast region in its grip, steadily mounting flood waters in the Mississippi basin today threatened to carry death and destruction to a dozen communities.

The safety of thousands of persons is threatened in Indiana with both the Wabash and White rivers on a rampage over acres of farm lands. Villages and small cities along the two flooded rivers are surrounded with water.

The town of Shoals in Martin county is surrounded by waters from the White river and has been cut off for 24 hours.

On the Wabash river several levees have given way despite the efforts of workers who piled re-enforcing stone and sand along the crumbling banks. At Vincennes, Ind., the Wabash had risen more than a foot in four hours.

Hundreds of acres of Illinois farm lands are inundated in the Kaskaskia river valley. Incessant rainfall yesterday continued to choke the Kaskaskia and force it over its banks.

A severe blizzard trailed by zero temperatures swept the Rocky mountain region and the upper middle west states of Nebraska, the Dakotas, Minnesota, Montana and Wyoming. Temperatures as low as 30 degrees below zero were reported in Montana.

Incessant snowfall in the Rocky mountain states has piled deep drifts, crippling transportation and wire communication. The cold wave in California has claimed two dead and several are missing.

WOMAN SLAYER

38. These parties were wanted in Pennsylvania in connection with the killing of Corporal Paul Brady of the highway patrol near New Castle, Pa. Dec. 27. Brady was killed when he and a fellow officer attempted to halt a car following a robbery at Butler, Pa.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 15.—Photographs and fingerprints of Mrs. Irene Schroeder, mercurial blonde gunwoman, and her two male accomplices, who are wanted for the murder of Corporal Brady Paul of the state highway patrol near New Castle, last December, are speeding today by air mail to Phoenix, Arizona, where the trio are reported to be under arrest.

State police headquarters here said that the pictures and prints had been rushed to Phoenix as soon as word of the capture had been received here.

Woman Admits Name

While the woman has been identified definitely as Mrs. Irene Schroeder of Benwood, W. Va., officials said, it has not yet been learned whether her two companions are Glen Dague and J. W. Crawford. State police said, however, they were confident the two men arrested would prove to be the hunted woman's aides.

Arizona authorities have indicated a willingness to turn the woman over to Pennsylvania to meet her fate unless wounds inflicted on a deputy sheriff near Phoenix prove fatal.

Extradition proceedings designed to bring Mrs. Schroeder within the jurisdiction of the Pennsylvania courts would have to be started by the district attorney of Lawrence county where the highway patrolman was slain.

HARVARD LOSES HISTORIC PLACE

Building Which Housed Trophies Destroyed By Blaze

Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 15.—The historic locker building at Harvard stadium, housing many rare Harvard trophies, was destroyed early today by a spectacular fire. Other athletic buildings in the vicinity were for a time threatened.

It was estimated that the damage would reach $150,000. For a time it was feared that the fire would spread to the $5,000,000 buildings of the Harvard graduate school of business administration, just across the street, but firemen brought the blaze under control.

Hundreds of Harvard undergraduates came to the scene of the fire. Among them was Allan Hoover, son of the president, who ran to the blaze clad in pajamas and sweater.

Before the last dying embers of the leveled structure had been extinguished, an offer to rebuild the locker building at a cost of $500,000 was made by the father of one of the students at Harvard.

The offer was made by Clarence D. Dillon, head of the New York financial firm of Dillon, Read & Co., and father of Clarence D. Dillon, member of the junior class.

BALLOTS FORM COURT SUBJECT

Tampered With, Is Claim Of Prosecutor Of Ohio County

Buyston, O., Jan. 15.—The trial of Mrs. Eleanor Blake and Mrs. Edna Nelson, sisters, charged with election officials of Buyston, who are charged with ballot tampering, was resumed here today.

An inoffensive street light bounded back into the election scandal when Cora Everett testified yesterday that the defendants asked her to vote for Henry Bornmuth for mayor and complained that Mayor L. J. Walbauer, one of the other candidates in the village, primary last August, had not treated them right about a street light in front of their home.

Yesterday's testimony also disclosed that the sisters worked for the nomination of M. W. Snyder for village clerk against Elizabeth Lind.

The two women are on trial following an inspection of the ballots from Precinct D in which they were election officials. The examination disclosed that the ballots had been marked by persons other than the voters.

Hungarian Swindler Suicide In Rumania

Bucharest, Jan. 15.—When his double existence was revealed by the police and detectives were entering his department in one of the most fashionable hotels of the city, Charles von Lengyel, elegant young aristocrat, shot himself with his revolver.

Charles von Lengyel, son of an impoverished Hungarian nobleman, was known in Budapest and Bucharest society, as a "man about town," a lucky spendthrift, who inherited a fortune whenever he seemed to be in need of money.

Every time, however, when he left his friends to visit one of his alleged dying relatives, he was in reality performing one of those high class swindlings, which have lately confounded the Rumanian police, frightened the jewellers and amused the world.

One of his latest and best, feats was when he disguised as a clergyman, went to the richest goldsmith in the Rumanian town, Grajova, and introduced himself as the secretary of the bishop of the next city. He selected expensive church plates and some gorgeous jewelled ornament for a new church and put them one after the other in his hand bag. Finally he asked for a stole and a mitre for his bishop and requested the owner of the shop, M. Moldovan, to try it on as his stature resembles closely to that of the bishop. When Moldovan looked exactly like a bishop, he had also a crozier in his hand, the unknown reverend seized his bag, ran out of the shop and shouted: "Help, help, Moldovan is gone mad!" Poor Moldovan, attired as a bishop, running after the clergyman, was indeed taken for a madman, was seized by well meaning neighbors and brought to an asylum. The clergyman, of course, disappeared.

"One might imagine," he said, "from the long tales of wrongs wrought by parents and teachers, that the happiest place for the personal development of the young would be the jungle."

In our American life and schooling we rightly recognize the evils of repression, but we need not think it the blackest of beasts. "At the moment we hear of repression as the chief cause of crime, especially in the young. Now in this time, when America would be the most law-abiding of lands."

May Use Sardines

As Bait For Deer

Upton, Mass., Jan. 15.—Hunters and sporting goods dealers will do well to consider stocking up with canned sardines before another deer season rolls along in Massachusetts because of the hypnotic influence of sardines on fate or the fact that the deer's already keen sense of smell has reached the X-ray stage. During the recent deer hunting season three or more deer have fallen before the aim of hunters who carried a box of sardines to the hunting grounds about Upton. The charm of sardines upon deer was discovered by Willard Taft, of Hopedale, but formerly of Upton. He had with him a box of sardines for lunch.

Taft shot a deer, and in his excitement of getting home, did not eat the sardines. A day or two later, Albert Shocomb and Ralph Briggs of Main st. went hunting. Just before they left Taft, convinced that the sardines brought him luck gave the same can to them. Briggs begged a deer. He passed the can of sardines to Shocomb, who on the following day shot a deer.

Now, it is whispered about Upton that grocery store keepers are thinking seriously of locking their supplies of canned sardines up in the safe, for fear that the deer that are left may seek board and food for the winter.

Vagueness about the provision of the city charter granting a city manager a hearing upon his dismissal caused members of the council to call upon former Councilman A. R. Hutton, author of the charter, at northwestern university yesterday for interpretation.

Hutton explained that the hearing was provided in order to give council sole power and responsibility for hiring and dismissing the manager without appeal to the courts.

He stated that the clause that the manager must be given a hearing if demanded was included to prevent council from taking hasty action and also to put the council squarely on record, giving it a chance to change its mind.

Hopkins, satisfied that his hearing will be little more than a mere formality, has announced that he will probably travel and do some writing on city governments in the near future.

Pending the nomination and selection of State Representative Daniel E. Morgan as Hopkins' successor, City Law Director Harold H. Burton has taken over the reins of the city government.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

A goodly collection of moulds is one of the best assets of a modern kitchen. Really, fancy moulds for the kitchen ought to be collected, piece by piece, the way art works are bought for the living rooms. Beautifully shaped moulds aren't cheap, but by purchasing one at a time, as an attractive one strikes the eye, a very useful set can ultimately grace the kitchen.

Moulds can be obtained in every conceivable shape — geometrical cubes and ovals and spheres and hemispheres; lovely stars, flowers, fruits, birds and jolly animals for children's parties. Big ones for family use, little ones for individual service. And these moulds, though the first cost may seem large, are good for a lifetime, and will stand plenty of wear.

Moulds have more than one use. We are accustomed to the fancy ones as containers of ices and puddings at very fancy parties. But,

Duel With Tiger Is Watched By Village

Bombay, Jan. 14.—A young Indian farmer named Marange who would not kill a tiger while it was asleep, is now at Goshen's door in a hospital. At Poonah, suffering from injuries he received in his single-handed encounter with the beast. Armed with only a stout stick, he fought the tiger asleep, but, it being against the etiquette of his race to attack a sleeping animal, he waited until the animal awoke. In a short while a stiff encounter ensued. Waiting for the tiger to spring at him, the farmer moved rapidly aside at the critical moment, at the same time dealing smashing blows with his staff on the animal's head.

After a battle which lasted 20 minutes, the tiger was killed. It being a sacred animal, the animal's head had been completely removed by the farmer.

New England Sees Industries Grow

Twenty workers will be employed by a new slipper company organized at Ware, Mass.

Citizens of Huntington, Mass., are raising money to buy and operate the mill in that town which was to be shut down.

At Grafton, Mass., a wire company has purchased three idle factory buildings. About 250 workers will be employed at the state.

Expansions include: a new building by a tool and die company at Southington, Conn.; a new shoe factory in Lynn, Mass.; a new building for a hosiery knitting machine company in Pawtucket, R. I.; addition to a dyeing and bleaching plant in Woonsocket, R. I.; a 400,000 addition to a drop forge plant in Springfield, Mass.; a $300,000 substitution of an electric light company in that city; several other building projects there; a two-story addition to a bread plant in Providence, R. ### BUDGET the safety department $34,161.46 this year while last year it received $36,281.46.

The general administration fund which provides for salaries of all city officials in executive capacity, payment of legal advertising costs and miscellaneous expenses, is apportioned $2,073.69, only a slight increase over last year.

Minus legal advertising, the Quaker City band donation and the civil service commission fund, all of which are placed under general administration for the first time, the fund would have been several hundred dollars less than in 1929.

The decreases were made necessary after the city received notification from the county that it will receive only $56,000 as its share of tax collections this year. In 1929 the city received $58,978 while in 1928 it was voted $66,305. While there was more than $17,000 remaining in the general fund to aid in the apportionments in 1929, this year council had only $1200 remaining in that fund, effecting a difference of about $1,600 in the year's budget.

The balance remaining in the general fund was used up in the past year, partly by increased expenses in the operation of the disposal plant and the remainder necessarily taken out after collections in the mayor's court failed to reach the estimated figure of $13,000.

This year it is estimated that $14,000 will be incoming to the city from the mayor's court, collection of delinquent taxes and other sources.

Waterworks Self-Sustaining

The actual amount appropriated in the ordinance is $85,972.22, including $15,430 for the cost of operating and maintaining the disposal plant. The actual appropriation was set $3,000 higher in 1929.

The waterworks fund is merely a reapportionment of money which is already in that department as the waterworks is self-sustaining. The waterworks appropriation is $64,518.71.

Including cost of operating and maintaining the sewage treatment plant, appropriations for the Centennial park commission and other memorial funds, the service department's fund is slightly larger this year than in 1929. It was set at $34,312.55 in the 1930 apportionments and amounted to $32,820 in 1929.

The police department, included in the safety department, was granted an increase of $404 but the fire department was cut from $23,574 in 1929 to $21,324, the amount allotted in this year. The health department was sliced from $6,080 to $5,425.

"MADAME X"
At The State

Ruth Chatterton's portrayal of the principal role in the all-talking drama, "Madame X" is destined to place her among the ranks of the country's greatest actresses. The picture itself is a vehicle of great dramatic moments but it needed the vivid characterizations of Madame X's weaknesses and strength of character as portrayed by Miss Chatterton to give it its ranking among the year's best productions.

Salem theater goers will be given their final view of this film at the State tonight. Because of its great depth it is accredited with greatness by only those of the audience who are appreciative of great drama but these followers are as legion compared to the minority who dislike it for unknown reasons.

Lewis Stone and Holmes Herbert are cast in supporting lead roles to Miss Chatterton while Raymond Hackett is brought into the picture in late moments to win a higher place among filmdom's elite than has ever before been awarded him.

Just as in all truly great pictures, "Madame X" has its weak moments but its great drama is present with such overwhelming force that the weaker parts are outclassed and hardly noticeable.

"THE LADY LIES"
At The Grand

Upright and law-abiding persons who see and hear Charles Ruggles in his second all-talking picture, "The Lady Lies," and other persons who have seen him act previously may well shake their heads dolefully over Charley's career in the talkies.

First it was in "Gentlemen of the Press" that Charley was fired from his job because he was an inveterate drunkard. Even after he lost his job Charley kept right on ploughing into the "laughing soup."

In "The Lady Lies," alas and alack-a-day, Charley is "drunk again."

Now what about his real life record? Is he desecrated and debauched?

"Never arrested yet, never picked out of the gutter, always able at least to take off my clothes and climb into 'beddy-bows' under my own power," says the virtuous Ruggles. "In fact," he adds, "if it is a press agent story, say I never drink at all."

But on the legitimate stage he is equally incorrigible. He probably got his first talking picture assignment because he earned the reputation of an old soak in the recent musical show, "Rainbow." Long before that he was coming home drunk in Al Woods' farce, "The Girl in the Limousine."

"It's no fun, this stage drunkenness," says Ruggles. "I'm afraid I'll never get a chance to do a straight part again as long as I live. I'm tagged as an alcoholic. The only way to rise, apparently, is to put on a swell case of delirium tremens."

FARM NOTES Items of Interest Taken from Ohio Rural Districts

FARM BUREAU Service Manager
S. G. Howard has issued to each farm bureau member who bought feed or fertilizer through the organization the past six months his share of $3.147.97.

This amounts to $1 per ton on feed and 8 1/2 per cent of the selling price on fertilizer. This added to $3.421.44, the spring dividend, makes a total of $6.569.51 for the year.

If this had been equally divided among all the members it would have amounted to a fraction over $12 each or $2 more than the cost of a membership.

The local feed and fertilizer distributors throughout the county are passing out the checks with the exception of the Co-operative Supply companies, which pay dividends to stockholders.

A total of $175,000 was distributed to the different county farm bureaus of Ohio on fertilizer during 1929.

Madison township Farm Bureau will hold a regular meeting at the West Point grange hall on Tuesday evening, Jan. 21. Local talent will furnish entertainment and Rev. Lewis Fraser will conduct a discussion on the local public road situation.

George N. Eells, local purchasing agent, will talk about clover seed, and S. G. Howard will discuss commercial fertilizers. The meeting will be in charge of Township Chairman George Lones.

Center township Farm Bureau has held its first regular meeting of the year at the Chandler school house. Camille Croaser, Glenn Bowman and John Sullivan entertained with several musical numbers, and Lillian Kelch gave a recitation. Miss Edith Holmberg led a discussion on health. Service Manager Howard discussed commercial fertilizers and seed potatoes.

When we say the new Multi-Range Chryslers are swifter in pick-up than other cars—smoother in flight—faster in climbing hills—easier to drive—we are simply stating facts you can prove.

Gears can be shifted back and forth between forward speeds at any car speed without clashing. In the midst of all today's claims and counter-claims, Chrysler suggests a demonstration, in order that you may learn for yourself why Chrysler inspires a pride all its own.

Grate Motors Throw Scare Into Furnace In Thrilling Battle

League Race Remains Tied; Jewelers Trim Printz Club Combine

The unexpected almost happened in the city Class A Industrial league Tuesday night when the Grate Motors, tied for seventh place in the circuit, threw a big scare into the league-leading Electric Furnace team and forced it to the limit before the decision was awarded to the leaders by a 29-20 count. It was one of the most thrilling games of the season.

The furnace-makers showed up badly against the cellar crew and were outplayed during the first half. The score stood tied at both the end of the first quarter and the half and only a last-quarter rally made victory and a continuation of its winning streak that had already reached four games, certain for the Electric Furnace combine.

The Art Jewelers flashed some good basketball to advance a notch in the standings by overwhelming the Printz Klub, 34-13 in the first game on last night's program. The game was fairly rough and exceedingly uninteresting.

FINAL REAL THRILLER
The finale was the big thriller of the basketball year in that it nearly upset all predictions and nearly eliminated the Furnace team from the league titular race. As it turned out, however, the industrial coterie still continues among the ranks undefeated, forcing the Golden Eagle merchants to annex the decision over the United Cigars Thursday night in another of these "crucial" affairs.

The Motors held the furnace to a lone field goal and scored one themselves in the first period which ended at 2-all. The Grate delegation

Victim of Numerous Ills Found Health In New Medicine After All Else Tried Failed

MR. PAUL KULEWSKY

Results are what count, and Konjola can be counted on for results. Konjola triumphs because all of its 32 ingredients work together, attacking disease at its very source. See what Konjola did for Mr. Paul Kulewsky, chef at the Youngstown Y. M. C. A., who says:

"Konjola is the only medicine that hit the spot in my case, and I certainly tried plenty of them in my efforts to rid myself of indigestion, constipation and kidney trouble. Even the lightest foods nauseated me. I could not sleep well, and day by day I felt myself slipping. Konjola was recommended and I gave it a trial. What a surprise was in store for me. All I took were four bottles, and in a month Konjola saved all my health problems. It is easy for me to understand why Konjola has won a million friends. It would have a billion if everyone knew about Konjola what I do."

Konjola is sold in Salem at all J. H. Lease (Mr. Kaminsky) drug stores, and by all the leading druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

THE DAY In Sports

OBERLANDER LEAVES OHIO
JAKE RUPPERT STANDS PAT

Sam Willaman's Ohio State coaching staff loses its first member through the resignation of A. J. "Swede" Oberlander who will become head football coach of Wesleyan university at Middletown, Conn. next fall. Oberlander, All-American star during his college days at Dartmouth, has been assistant at Ohio State for four years, starting under Dr. John W. Wilce in 1925. His work at the Buckeye school is said to have prompted his appointment at Wesleyan where he will be both head grid coach and assistant professor of physical education. He was in complete charge of the second varsity squad under Willaman in 1929.

Together with his coaching activities, Oberlander will continue studying medicine, a profession he expects to follow in later years. He has completed two full years of medical study and will continue at Yale medical college.

Oberlander makes a wise choice in refusing to make football coaching his main vocation. In these days when coaches must turn out winning teams or be forced to resign the coaching job in any college or even high school, is an uncertainty. Too many men, declared some of the greatest grid strategists of their day, have realized this too late. Many are now attending various colleges, taking up a different course of study for the purpose of eking out a daily existence over which there will be no critical eyes of alumnus awaiting a chance to force his resignation.

Every day it appears more and more to be the fact that George Herman "Bambino" Ruth will have to either come down to Col. Jacob Ruppert's figure or limit his activities during baseball season as a spectator. Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees, the team to which George Herman is alleged to have given such great quantities of lucre because of his great drawing power, stands pat on his $75,000 offer.

"This is the last word," the fiery owner stated today. "In refusing to issue a three-year contract to Ruth I seek to protect the player himself, as well as my investment and the rights of all other of our players. I find that three-year contracts are bad and unhealthy business. I have broken my word to myself in even offering him a two-year contract and it is certain that no other Yankee will be signed for more than one-year."

Ruppert stated that he had taken the matter under consideration with Miller Huggins before the great manager's death. Huggins advised against signing the great slugger for more than a season and told the club owner that Ruth was showing up.

Ruth has told Ruppert that he will get $85,000 a year or quit. The invitation towards the latter has been extended him by the owner, who, however has shown Bambino that it will not be at all logical for him to drop out of baseball and it is likely that an agreement will be reached soon.

Cow's Reputation Is Up Before Jury

Laporte, Ind., Jan. 14.—The reputation of a cow was at stake before a jury of twelve men in circuit court here.

Charges that the cow was not what she was represented to be were made by Harry Nelson, defendant, in the law suit in reply to a suit for $100 on a note brought by George Jasicki, a neighbor. Both live near Michigan City, Ind.

The jurors were told by Nelson that the cow turned out to be blind, somewhat lacking as to teeth and failed to give more than three gallons of milk a day.

Jasicki on the other hand sang the cow's praises and claimed she gave five gallons of milk a day when he owned her.

The court took the case under advisement.

Famed Product of Americanization Dies

Edward W. Bok, editor and philanthropist, leaped into world fame with his brilliant book, "The Americanization of Edward Bok," has just died at the age of 66 at his winter home near Lake Wales, Fla. The sudden death of the noted writer, who came to this country from the Netherlands at the age of six, followed an acute heart attack.

"It's easy for me to do a full day's work and stay up late nights since taking Vinol. My weight has increased 5 pounds."—Earl Dunlap.
 Vinol is a delicious compound of cod liver peptide, iron, etc. Nervous, easily tired, anemic people are surprised how Vinol gives new pep, sound sleep and a big appetite. The very first bottle often adds several pounds weight to thin children or adults. Tastes delicious. The J. H. Lease Drug Co. Adv.

THE HOME KITCHEN
 By Jeannette Young Norton
 No matter what you call a sausage—affectionately, derisively or suspiciously it's sure to be popular. Good sausage is a satisfying dish for the hungry, and it tempts the appetite of the finicky by its fragrant spices. When in doubt, it is safe to serve sausage either as a breakfast, luncheon or supper dish. Especially in cold weather when we need substantial foods.
 There isn't any reason however, why we should stick to the two or three most common sausages. Some know only the "frankfurters" to give them their most dignified appearance. Or the little pork sausage. Or the large, beefy Bologna. But wherever there are people stocked with delicatessen or foreign shops there one can obtain any of a dozen varieties of sausage. Bologna, Italian, German, English—all have their special kinds. The Germans perhaps are the great sausage specialists and they make literally over a hundred varieties. Indeed, there are almost 30 kinds of liver sausage alone, some made from hotel liver, the cheapest, others with a goose liver basis, costing several dollars the pound.
 Beef and pork are the basis of most sausages, and the variety in flavor is caused by the different spices used. Cervelat is a sausage of beef or veal and no pork is used. Salami is usually tough meat, and makes a hard sausage which is what many people prefer. But it is also true that tough meat has a much richer flavor than the tender portions. Italian salami is the most pungent, but milder brands are made in this country, and we import some from Germany, Switzerland and Hungary.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

There is more on the market skinless sausage, which looks and tastes like the familiar "weenie" but dispenses forever of the old problem—what shall be done with the casing? These whole sausages, like pork or frankfurters, can be broiled and served with mashed potatoes, cooked cabbage, chard, spinach or other greens.
 The other varieties which are dried can be served in a large variety of ways.

Sausage Omelet
 1/2 pound any dried, soft sausage
 6 eggs
 1 tablespoon butter
 4 tablespoons milk
 Salt and pepper
 Place the slices of sausage in the pan and heat gently to draw off excess fat. Beat together the eggs, milk. Place butter in pan with sausage, then pour over the egg and stir until thick.
 If there are any left-over vegetables—cooked carrots, turnips, potatoes, etc., they can be pepped up to an appetizing state by reheating with sliced sausage.
 And for a midnight snack, be sure to keep the emergency shelf equipped with two or three kinds of sausage that can be stored safely. They make tasty sandwiches, either on fresh bread, on toast, or reheated in a sauce for a hot sandwich. And although a sandwich made by placing a slice of salami and a slice of hamlet cheese on rye sounds unappealing, it tastes quite marvelous—especially if you're hungry.

Baked Potato and Sausage
 Peel and core a large potato, and insert a sausage in the hole. Place in a greased baking dish and bake until tender. Delicious for luncheon.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, Jan. 15.—Flying fashions are now furnishing fine food for thought for the French dressmaker, since aviation has become a recognized sport, pastime and means of transport among numbers of smart women.

Coats and trousers of suede in plain colors are to be seen for those who really do more than fly out to dinner or across the channel to Paris for a few hours of shopping. They are made like the winter sports suits and very often have zipper fastenings to save time and keep out the air.

Leather coats are now made in a great variety, besides the old-fashioned strong and business-like brown leather ones, there are wonderfully soft and pliable coats in suede fastening with buttons or the zips. They come in every shade and some of the women pilots favor a coat and leather flying helmet edged with fur to match their own airplane.

Tweed coats with large fur collars go nicely for the flying fans who go out for an afternoon call and wish to be presentable upon arrival without making a change.

One dressmaker is showing a striking tweed model for flying in seven pieces, with coat and skirt made of rust-colored and brown striped tweed with a cardigan jacket collared in cream linen. There is a pull-over striped jersey blouse under the cardigan and the long scarf is made of the same jersey. So is the beret with its crystal ball on top.

One house's flying suit comes in tweed-tricot of yellow, brown and blue mixture, with three-quarter length coat having spacious set-in pockets at the side. The blouse worn with it is a pale yellow lunikasha, warm half-wool and half silk.

Never Would Do Here
 It looks as though our government is assuming a paternal form and the board of health out in Kansas City is insisting upon sanitary kissing, but by the time the room is properly ventilated and the lips thoroughly sterilized we should think the participants would be out of the notion.

Sound Refreshing Sleep Found at Last

Canton Lady Who Had Not Had a Good Night's Sleep for 30 Years Enjoys Deep, Rich Slumber After Taking Owa-Ton-Na Two Weeks

For exactly 31 years Mrs. Fuch, who resides at 1018 Sylvan St., N. E. Canton, has had her sleep disturbed by stomach distress and kidney weakness. She says: "I was in such a worn-out condition that it is a wonder that I was ever able to do a stroke of work. One thing I particularly noted was that I could not lay on my left side because of the pain it caused me."

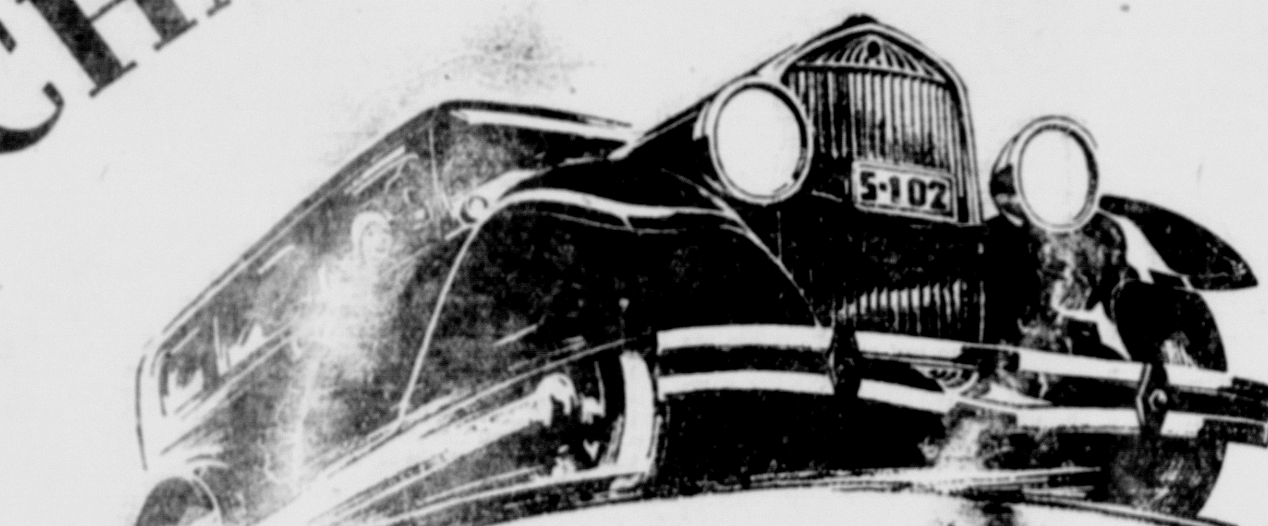

"I was told my distress came from gall bladder trouble, liver trouble and many other disorders, but I know that whatever it was, Owa-Ton-Na removed it. I am no longer constipated, my headaches have stopped, my appetite is fine and I have no more bad breath. I never feel worn out nor am I troubled any more with dizzy spells, and above all I sleep right through the night as peacefully and as restfully as a little child. Owa-Ton-Na has done wonders for me and I certainly recommend it to all sufferers. I will be glad to tell anyone personally about the results I have had."

Owa-Ton-Na is sold in Salem at Fieding's, Bolger & French and J. H. Lease drug stores.—Adv.

CHALLENGING AGAIN!

The NEW ESSEX Challenger

Challenging again!—with even faster speed—with greater power—with quicker get-away—with a longer, bigger car—with an entirely new car throughout.

It challenges, too, in economy, in ease of operation and smooth riding—in good looks—in real value—in reliability and in price.

It is a new Essex Challenger from front end to tail light. It is a longer, larger car. The Super-Six motor is made smoother and given a wider performance range. The motor retains every advantage you know in economy and long life. It is so distinctly modern in all the things that count that you must want to own it.

The bodies are roomy. The clutch and brakes operate at the slightest foot pressure.

Proper balance and mechanism make it easy to steer.

It doesn't look like any other car. The radiator is different. The fenders are different and the wide variety of colors gives each owner practically individual choice.

This sweeping challenge is for you to know the facts. It is for you to know that a thoroughbred automobile is available at a price all can afford.

GOODRICH PLANT VALUE INCREASE

Interest In Corporation Sold For $7,500 45 Years Ago

James D. Tew, president of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company and son of one of the founders, announced at a chamber of commerce banquet in Akron recently that in 1874, his father sold a quarter interest in the Goodrich company for $7,500. Goodrich is now a $150,000,000 corporation. Tew gave some facts of the early history of Goodrich during a short address which was one of a number given by nationally known men of Akron, leaders in the rubber industry.

In speaking of the future of the rubber industry, Mr. Tew said: "If we continue to bring in well-educated and well-trained young men of good character there will be no need to worry about who will carry on the industry."

In commenting on labor conditions, Tew stressed the fact that the rubber industry is free of labor troubles and rightly so because of the fact that any worker's advancement in the industry depends on how valuable he chooses to make himself to his employers. Tew said that the rubber industry is still in its infancy and that it offers exceptional opportunity to young men of ambition and energy.

Galen Greenisen, manager of the Travers Tire company store here, local agency for Goodrich tires made the above announcements today.

CHRYSLER TESTS BRAKING SYSTEM

Plymouth Brake Designed For Quick Stops, Local Dealer Explains

Stopping a car at high speed is a different proposition from stopping quickly at moderate speed. A brake that will do the latter may not be effective at high speeds, according to J. G. Smith, Salem Chrysler dealer.

"Tests made on brakes at various speeds by our experimental department recently have brought to light some interesting facts," Smith stated today. "Many of these are of great use in design work, but of little direct interest to the public. One fact, however, has been brought out which every motorist should know for his own safety and protection."

"This point may be made clear by a concrete example: A certain car may be driven at 25 miles per hour. The car may be virtually stood on end by its brakes. A fine, quick, short stop may be made with this car at that speed," Smith explained.

"Take the same car and drive it at 65 miles per hour, and the same brakes that brought it to a quick, smooth stop at 25 miles per hour may act entirely differently. Jamming the brakes on at this high speed may cause the car to swerve badly, forcing the driver to quickly release the brakes or suffer the penalty of going off the road. Instead of a smooth, swift stop, the reasonable speed by alternately applying and releasing the brakes, before the brake can be really applied. "Needless to say such brakes are dangerous. The fact that they ap-

Local tire dealers are looking forward to 1939 as one of the greatest years in the history of motoring, according to Galen Greenisen, local agent for Goodrich tires here. The registration of motor vehicles is the largest since the advent of the first crude car, Greenisen stated today.

Greenisen bases his prediction on replacement volume for next year on a statement recently issued by J. D. Tew, president of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company. In forecasting the tire business for 1939, Tew said:

"Forecasts for 1939 indicate that the volume of business done should exceed that of 1929. While it is probable that the production of motor cars will be somewhat lower the coming year than for 1929, the decrease in tire volume applicable to new cars should be more than offset by the increase in sales for replacement use. Past records invariably show that dealers' sales in the tire field are relatively better where car production is not rapidly increasing, and particularly so when there is a decrease. This naturally would mean a larger replacement business for the manufacturer and the dealer as well, carrying with it a proportionately larger profit than is enjoyed when tires are sold to car manufacturers."

Positions All Sound
"In general, the inventory positions in all industries are sound—pear so good at 25 miles per hour makes them all the more of a hazard at high speed, because the owner may be prone to think that he can rely upon them, whereas he cannot."

The answer, of course, is equalization. Were brakes perfectly equalized the car would not swerve. It is this fact which has led to the adoption of the hydraulic-type brake by Plymouth.

This car holds the distinction of being the lowest-priced car equipped with hydraulic brakes. Because of the laws of physics which govern fluids, the pressure at all points in the hydraulic brake system is equal, consequently there is never any doubt about equalization.

"The Plymouth brake has been designed as a real speed brake, not only because of its hydraulic equalization, but also because of the high factors of safety used throughout the braking system. The flexible hose which carries the brake fluid is made to withstand a pressure of 2500 pounds per square inch before it is installed. After all lines are installed in the brake system, a test of 400 pounds per square inch is given to detect leaks. In actual use under the most severe conditions, the greatest pressure in the lines is 150 pounds per square inch, while under ordinary conditions the pressure rarely exceeds 80 pounds."

"No one should drive a car at high speed without knowing that the brakes are suitable for high speed use. Just because they act perfectly at low and moderate speeds it cannot be concluded that they are satisfactory for high speed. The stresses on the brakes increase with the square of the speed. The energy contained in the speeding car at 60 miles per hour is not twice as great as at 30 miles per hour but four times as great. Differences in braking effort due to poor equalization are brought out at high speeds as by a microscope. Therefore, before speeding—be sure that your car has perfectly equalized brakes. This can be quickly found out for you by any well-equipped service station," Smith concluded.

very few being over-extended on physical inventories for future commitment. Ample credit is available, and, generally, industrial concerns are looking upon 1939 with optimism. We can see no reason to curtail any expansion programs contemplated, and I believe that the recent recession in industrial activities has very largely run its course."

AUTO'S COMFORT NOT HARMED BY ADVENT OF COLD

Modern Equipment Makes For Satisfaction In All Weather

If you were a car owner just a few years ago, you remember that you contemplated the approach of winter ice and snow with a sigh of regret. Not that you minded so much the job of jacking up the old bus, deflating the tires and other little jobs that go with putting her in dry dock for the winter—you did not mind that so much, but you hated the inconvenience of hoofing it and finding other means of travel during the season of rain, sleet and snow.

It all sounds rather funny now—since we have heaters, radiator shutters and other accessories that make winter driving comfortable. And among other things we learned that winter weather is far less severe on the tire than the hot summer months. These observations were made by Dallas Keller of the Keller Auto company, who sells and services Pontiac and Oakland automobiles here.

"In the old days," said Mr. Keller, "you remember we had plain treads and non-skid treads with quite a difference in price. Tire manufacturers had not made the scientific investigation into traction and tread safety that they have in recent years. Smooth tread tires were dangerous on ice and snow."

The same situation applies to all other mechanical parts of the automobile. Winter holds little dread for the motorist who drives the modern machine. It has been so equipped that it can withstand the coldest blasts of the winds and still be comfortable. The old-time habit of driving an automobile is now passe with the advent of the newer advantages.

Oakland and Pontiac autos are equipped with these devices and are modern in every essential. Whether the weather be under the zero mark or near the top of the thermometer, the machines offered for sale by the Keller Auto company offer satisfaction to all members of the family.

Fleet Of Motor Trucks Makes Hauling Safe By Salem Concern

Local and long distance hauling is done by A. J. Herron, Salem's leading moving concern which has as its slogan "a load on our truck is a load off your mind."

The advent of motor trucks into moving has taken away much of the evil of moving household furnishings from one house to another or from one city to another.

Furniture and other goods removed the Herron way seldom, if ever, suffers any damage. It is placed on the trucks with greatest care and steps taken to insure safe delivery of all goods.

If you contemplate moving from this city, give Herron a ring and try his moving concern. Of if you are considering changing your local residence, his work is equally satisfactory. His phone number is 725.

AUTO TOP SHOP IMPROVES CARS

Damaged Tops Repaired At Salem Concern; General Work

In these days of many accidents due to snow and ice much damage is done to the automobile's top, windshield and glass in collisions. The top may be damaged badly, the windows of the body smashed completely, but the damage can be adjusted in such a manner that the fact that the car has once been in an accident can be hardly noticed.

L. G. Dean operates the Salem Auto Top shop at 239 South Lundy ave. for just such purposes. He has there a modern, complete shop that has been doing a successful business for three years, rebuilding tops of automobiles, restoring glass windows and upholstering inner furnishings.

Then too, whether or not your machine has been involved in an accident, an occasional trip to the top shop would be to advantage. The top of the automobile you have been driving everyday can't last forever and have it inspected and gone over at regular intervals. Be sure that it isn't going to ruin completely by playing safe.

No auto should be operated with part of its windows out. Not that it's so cold now, but no automobile owner can have pride in a machine that looks in such a dilapidated condition as those do minus windows. The car's upholstery should always be kept up also.

Dean can be reached with ease. Drive the car around to his location or call him at 652-J.
